Senior Prophecy

By Pat Draut

In the year 2,000 A.D. I decided to take my space ship and go to the planet Earth for a school reunion with my classmates of 1953.

As I landed on the school lawn which took up six blocks, I then noticed that the town had grown slightly. It is now about the size of New York.

As I climbed from my space ship, I saw coming toward me Joe Knight, in his old "53" Plymouth which had just come from the garage for the 1,953rd. time. He also had with him his 23 grandchildren. He took me up on Westguard Pass to a place known in my day as "Lovers Knob." But now the "Lovers" don't go there, because Joe has a rambling ranch house there now. As we walked in, Carol was dusting off the only furniture they had which was an old auto seat that I recall seeing there while I was still in high school.

After visiting them for a while I went to the home of Sharon and Rod Shackleford to have tea. They were very prosperous now, as they owned a Horny Toad farm in Saline Valley. They had a private race track called "the California Stetson."

After leaving the Shackleford's home I stopped at Harley Vincents place of business which was to cut warts off of Dill Pickles. The name of his establishment was "Harley'll Do It."

Then I visited the 21 room apartment of Mr. Clifford Bowers, where I was informed by him that he was now the Heavy Weight champion of the Underworld. He is still as tough as he was in his school days.

After dinner I stopped by to see Joy in her tent and Onion Valley where she took in washing for a living. Her tent was lavishly furnished with two orange crates and one duied onion. Around her finger was an old cigar band which an old beau named Mike gave her. As I left her house I continued on to see Stanford Ball in his Model A. He was now very bald, but was very gay and sprightly for his age. He was now giving swimming instructions at a wealthy old women's place.

After leaving Stan's I stopped by Rita Cyrus, better known now as Rita La Rue. She is now the Stiptease Artist at the Palace. Her dance was the most exotic in the valley.

All in all I had a most exciting time on my earth trip. And now I must return to my brewery on Mars for I have an appointment with Mr. I. W. Harper early in the morning.

Senior History

Eight little freshmen stood in front of the class. (Stan, Cliff, Joe, Merton, Betty, Lorene, Heidi)

One jumped in and then there were nine. (Joy) Another jumped out and eight appeared again. (Heidi)

Eight fine Sophomores having lots of fun. Two jumped in and then there were ten. (Harley, Carol)

Then we lost another one and there were nine again. (Merton)

Nine pretty big Juniors jumping all around. Then we lost three but gained another one. (Pat,) (Harley, Lorene Betty)

Nine Big Seniors, never could be smarter. Back came another one who'd become a little taller. (Harley)

He brought with him two more that he thought would fill the order, (Sharon, Rod) And as far as we're concerned they did. We think. Well Sorta.

Ten Big Seniors not a class could be better. But it didn't last long, Because we lost one and we never will forget her. (Carol)
